

SAILING UNDER NEW COLORS.*THE CINCINNATI CLUB TRANSFERRED TO A BROTHERHOOD SYNDICATE.

The Game of the National and Players' League Has Closed—The American Association Still Keeps on—Word Books Being Out for Places—Show the Games Went Well and Lost Yesterday—Notes and News from Everywhere.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 4.—Cincinnati has struck its colors. The deal has been completed in all save a few minor details, and the advance guard of the brotherhood have surrendered the purse which has served to make Messrs. Stern and Stern march in retirement. The deal which commenced in a spirit of bluff to ward off threats—an invasion of the Cincinnati's territory by the Brothehood resulted in an end that certainly proves surprising to half the Cincinnati enthusiasts.

It was like pulling teeth to get three players in line, and McPhee was under personal contract to President Stern for three years, but he balked and wanted a slice of the $40,000 in the way of additional salary to consent to a transfer of obligation. To the Brotherhood he was offered $400 to consent but he took his time to consider. Reilly and Mullane were also obdurate, and the morning session was fruitless.

It rained hard in the afternoon, and the last League game could not play. That gave the missionaries more time to read tracts to the trio of players. Everything seemed O. K., and Secretary Stern was signing Reilly; then the little President of the Cincinnati exclaimed: "Nicht schreiben." The contract was jerked from Reilly's hand, and the official declared: "Com on; I'm tired of fooling; the deal is off." Butts wasn't.

Secretary Brunil met the charges that were hurled at him by winter retorts. The storm of words did not last long. From the Burnet House the whole delegation, armed with umbrellas, proceeded to the office of Vice-President Louis Kramer, where the legal transfer was made. Ex-Assistant United States District Attorney John E. Bruce acted as counselor for the Brotherhood, and he has been installed as their attorney in Cincinnati. Director Talcott, John A. Ward, and A. L. Johnson represented the "Players" League at the transfer, while Cincinnati's President and Secretary took care of their own interests.

President Louis will continue in charge of the team, and the new direction is to make him business manager as well. Only two of the Brotherhood teams are to be run in here for exhibition games, the Cleveland and Philadelphia. There is a possibility that Pittsburgh being sent on later. It is to do so to speak of changes for '91, but Hoy and Jack, are two men who are prompt.

Eight of the old Reds have been signed. The others are: Wm. H. McPhee, Wm. McNamee, Wm. Marr, Hollis, and Laddie. They are now put out on organized by A. L. Johnson, President.

B. Talcott, Vice-President, and General Treasurer, and J. H. Ward, and A. L. Johnson, Directors, the old and will play here on Monday. In addition to the price paid $40,000, the new club will take up all contracts. That included Foreman and Duran.
